REPAIRS TO NOBE TO COST $500,000

Government Has Made Arrangements for Court Martial of Officers—Closer Trade Relations with India and Australia

(Western Associated Press.)
Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—The question has been raised why a squadron of British cruisers should cross the Atlantic to Halifax, simply to hold a court martial into the ground of the H. M. S. Nobe. The explanation given at the naval department is that the squadron of which these four cruisers form part was going on its annual cruise anyway and that while it had not been intended to cross the Atlantic, the route was changed when a request was made by the Canadian government, and a cruise to Halifax and Bermuda decided upon.
It is stated that the government will bear the cost of the court martial, but the expenses of the cruise itself are not to be borne by Canada as it is an annual affair under orders of the admiralty.
Originally the Nobe cost $3,000,000 and the repairs will run into another $500,000.
According to the Telegram this morning it is understood that W. D. Staples, M.P. for MacDonald, is likely to succeed Hon. W. K. Roche as chief whip for Manitoba, with A. S. Goodwin, whip for British Columbia.
A broad imperial policy of closer relations with both the West Indies and Australia is being considered by Hon. Geo. E. Foster. In fact the new minister of trade and commerce has under consideration, it is understood, the drafting of a policy which will mean the general binding together in closer trade relations the Empire. The question of reciprocity with Australia has at various times cropped up, but has always failed to pass, and it is very possible that the government will take up the question again of closer trade relations with both Australia and the West Indies.
The governor-general of the Bahamas has been in the city this week and had several conferences with Foster in regard to the question of annexation by the Dominion and closer relations. He was given, it is understood, every encouragement by Foster and the question will be taken up later by the government.

COAL STRIKE IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA ENDED

(Special to the Capital.)

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 27.—The coal strike is settled. Within a few days the miners will be returning to work and the mines will be running full blast. The end came not unexpectedly, as it has been known for some time that a basis of settlement had almost been reached. The conference held here yesterday resulted in the miners and operators signing a document whereby they will go to the operators' association and the miners' union during the next few days and submit a basis of agreement for referendum. The Gordon award, with some changes in schedule for contract work is the basis of settlement.
The one point of difference between the two parties, that is the checking system, which has been in force in the past agreements, will not be included in the new agreement, thus assuring to the miners a recognition of the union.

President Powell for the miners and President Stockett for the operators came to the agreement today in the presence of Hon. Robert Rogers, who got the two parties together for the final settlement. Coal will be rushed out just as soon as the mines are working, in an endeavor to supply serious shortages in Saskatchewan.

GALACIAN WOMAN GORED TO DEATH

(Western Associated Press.)
Elphinstone, Man., Oct. 27.—The body of the missing Galician woman, who was found last week, was found today. The body was found near her home, but trampled and torn into an almost unrecognizable mass. Standing near her was the cause of her death, an infuriated bull.
The animal had evidently stood guard over the body of his victim for two weeks, and when discovered returned to his position beside it. The woman had frequently come out with pitchfork when searching for the cattle, though she was not afraid, it was a dangerous animal.

The affair took place in the Manhattan Saloon, Taylor being saved from probable death through the intervention of Eric Paquin.
Taylor's condition is critical. McLeod was arrested by C. W. Young, chief of police. He has been in the city for a short time only. The police found two knives on his person.

(Western Associated Press.)
Peking, Oct. 27.—General Liang Hong, leader of the rebels forces, has declared the foreign powers at Peking that he has been proclaimed "President of the Republic of China." Foreign ministers here have exchanged communications with Li on several subjects. They objected to his announcement that "Vessels carrying contraband would be subject to confiscation and also to his proposal to the administration of custom revenue at the port of Yangtze and other cities when controlled by the Revolutionists." The latter objection was based on the fact that the revenues are pledged as security for foreign loans and should be turned over to the British inspector of customs. Reports that minister of war General Yu in Tientsin is dead continues in circulation and are believed by many Chinese.

GREENE MOVES TO DISMISS THE U. S. STEEL CORPORATION

Entire Force of United States Deputies Serve Papers on Officials of Corporation—Stock Drops Over Six Points But Recovers Slightly Later

(Western Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 27.—The entire force of deputies under United States Marshal Hevel was put at the disposal of the government today to finish the task of serving copies of the bill of equity, in the federal suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation, upon the officers and directors of the alleged trust residing here. J. P. Morgan and E. H. Gary received service last night, but thirteen others remained to be served in this neighborhood. According to a statement given out at the office of the United States marshal in Trenton, where the suit was filed yesterday, this service of the petition will be followed by subpoenas requiring the defendants to answer the petition at 10 o'clock.

It is expected that three services will be made within 48 hours. News of the dissolution came yesterday some time after the stock market had closed, but it brought many of the brokers back to their offices in a hurry to lay plan for today's market and also take advantage of the earlier opening of foreign exchange. Dealers were busy all night sending orders to London. Word of the decline of steel in London caused no surprise in New York this morning and traders prepared for a lively day when the stock exchanges opened here at 10 o'clock.

In the absence of any statement of the steel corporation, the opinion in Wall Street this morning was that the corporation would fight the government suit. Preparations were evident. The yellow theme soon before the market as yesterday's decision to abandon the Great Northern. Mr. Leases, and the retention of one of the steel companies with the corporation's announcement of its position after a meeting of the directors in September. This was evident this morning.

The Effect in London.
London, Oct. 27.—The effect in the American market assembled earlier than usual this morning, owing to action of the United States government in bringing suit of dissolution of the U. S. Steel corporation and all constituent or subsidiary companies. Steel shares opened at 29, but soon fell to 28 1/2 and 28 1/4.

At 11 o'clock, however, the market was very unsettled and confidential advisers were hastily awaited. No deal in American walls had yet occurred. Holders here were rather frightened at the governments action but principal of foreign appear to have been calm over night from all street. American note later dropped from two and a half to one and a half, in sympathy with the steel stock, but the market hardened fractionally. At noon when in absence of further selling, steel was quoted at 28 1/2 and 28 1/4.

TRADED VALUABLE SUBDIVISION FOR HORSE YEARS AGO

Edmonton Pioneer, in 1884, Turned Over What is now Allendale for a Very Ordinary Equin—Property Recently Sold on Blo for Sum of $175,000

Stories of the increases in Edmonton realty values, which sound incredible to the denials of the office, are more plentiful to the residents of Greater Edmonton, but associated with the property to the south of Strathcona, which is today being placed on the market as the "Allendale" subdivision, is a chapter in the history of the development of the town which the enhancement of prices which arise out of that development, which cannot well be passed over without comment.

Twenty-seven years ago, in 1884, a quarter section of the town of Edmonton is now the Allendale subdivision, and which promises to become in the very near future one of the most important residential sections of the university city, was acquired by a pioneer of those days, now a prominent Edmonton lawyer, in exchange for an old horse, but-tard McLeod, the original proprietor of the quarter, parting with his ride for a pinto pony, Macleod flattered himself that he had secured a diplomatic victory in negotiating the deal, for the destiny which awaited the commercial and residential capital of the west of a future day, was not then so much as dreamed of. Edmonton was a trading post, and there were but few of the old-timers, whose vision penetrated beyond the era of the Hudson bay factor
and the half breed colony.

The purchase of the preemption, however, decided to sacrifice all other interests to the development of the newly acquired property. To the presented had he added a quarter section homesteaded under the Dominion government regulations, and thirteen years after the date of the original purchase, in 1897, the Edmonton lawyer sold the half section to Tom Allen for $10 an acre, a price phenomenal in those times.

Fourteen intervening years have brought the well-established farming property within the range of development for far different purposes.
Growth of city population steadily forcing settlement to the southern boundary of the city of Strathcona, introduced a new factor in determining the value of the site, which became marked out as one of the most desirable residential locations in the University city. In September, the subdivision comprising the original half section and some 16 acres which lie between this and the old boundary of the Panacheau Indian reserve, was acquired by the

WORK IS STOPPED ON HUDSON'S BAY ROAD

All Work is Said to Be at a Standstill Nothing to Be Done in Winter.

(Western Associated Press)
Prince Albert, Sask., Oct. 27.—Because statements to the contrary, work on the Hudson Bay railroad is at an absolute standstill. Everything is tied up tighter than a drum and apparently no construction work will be done this year. Much of the work in the country traversed by the line is of such a nature that it can be done primarily in winter.

On the Canadian Pacific all the work through the Muskogean country was done in cold weather, when barometers hang down and soft earth being cut out and solid. For a long stretch the new line is through this class of land and there is nothing to prevent a vigorous resumption of the enterprise during the next six months. Not a tap is being done at the present time by any contractor and it is not expected that any active construction work will be done for many months. It is said the contract given J. D. McArthur of Winnipeg, is to be investigated by the department of railways.

Medical Health Officer Discusses White Plague

Delivers Address Before Local Council of Women and Asks for Assistance in Establishment of Sanatoriums for Benefit of Patients in Province

In an address before the local council of women in the Y.M.C.A. parlor, yesterday afternoon, Dr. Whitehead, medical officer of health for the city of Edmonton, besought the assistance of the health for women's organizations of the province in the furtherance of the project now being advanced by the Medical association, for the establishment of one of two sanatoriums, in Alberta, for the treatment of tuberculosis.
At the conclusion of the meeting resolutions unanimously endorsing the proposals were carried, and the council of women pledged its support to the movement. The doctor was fitted to the doors, and his speech was well received,
which is of vital concern to the province. Many of the ladies took an active part in the proceedings, and urged the need of immediate steps for the founding of the provincial institutions.
Mrs. Broadbent presided.

After presenting statistics bearing upon the local situation, Dr. Whitehead, went on to deal with his subject in general terms, viewing the question of special provision for consumption from the standpoint of the community and of the patient himself. The association between tuberculosis and poverty was emphasized by the medical officer. "It must be evident to all of us," he says, "that a great deal of poverty and destitution is due to the limitation or total extinction of the earning capacity of those afflicted by the disease, and more especially is this the case where the breadwinner of the family, husband, wife or both are afflicted. Poverty and tuberculosis like the Spanish flu, are seldom dis-sociated, and represent what may be called a vicious circle. Poverty favors the development of tuberculosis and tuberculosis induces poverty."

Dr. Whitehead's reference to the climatic influences which are hostile to the growth of the white plague in Alberta, was significant. "It has long been apparent to me," he declares,
"that it is rare for a native born Albertan to develop tuberculosis except under conditions of serious exposure to the infection from those afflicted persons who have come here from other provinces, or who from overwork and living in close, confined and ill-ventilated rooms with an insufficient supply of nourishing and suitable food, have given the germs of the disease an opportunity to assert themselves. Under proper conditions of living no person born with good physique and free from exposure to infection of parents afflicted with the disease, should die of tuberculosis in Alberta, where the climatic conditions are probably as favorable as can be found anywhere."

Unless sanitary plumbing connections be installed on the premises of Abraham Cristall, Jasper avenue, in the very near future the city engineer's department will take the matter into his own hands, and put the improvements in themselves, clearing the cost up to Mr. Cristall. Such is the intimation to be conveyed by the city superior, in response to instructions from the city commission board.

The entrance plans of the C. P. R., which have already been approved by the city engineer, were this morning referred to the council for final endorsement.

According to a report submitted to the commissioners this morning by Superintendent Huffman of the power plant, the quantity of water pumped through the city mains on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week was as follows: It was on Thursday that the city water was first successfully metered: Thursday, Oct. 19, 3,124,375 gallons; Friday 3,516,125; Saturday, 2,969,250.

Building Inspector Molvor was given power to purchase badges for the officials of his department.

A report of the engineer's department of the eleven months of the financial year which ended on Sept. 30, was received by the commissioners this morning. Up to the end of last month the sum of $531,532.23 had been spent out of the year's appropriation.

Orders for the new street car signs, which are to be of a type visible by day or night, have been placed by the street railway superintendent.

Axiation for the erection of a labor temple in St. Paul, Minn., in which all the labor organizations in that city may be accommodated, was renewed recently in the trade assembly, when a special committee was appointed to look into certain plans by which it is proposed to raise money to start a building fund. It is expected that the committee will submit a favorable report in the near future.

Charles W. Torris is to appear in his own work, "The Preacher and the Manager" during this season under the management of George Smith.

After the long run of "The Stockings" has been brought to a conclusion, Margaret Anglin will appear in Israel Zangwill's "The New Religion."

The records of the Bricklayers' Masons and Plumbers' International Union show that during the last ten years 68 per cent of the disputes between affiliated local and employers which have been submitted to the international officers have been peacefully settled.

LATEST WORD IN FASHION'S WORLD

Velvet Being Used Largely for Street Costumes—Evening Frocks of All White Material—Ermine in Vogue—Feminine Extravagance Not on Decline

New York, Oct. 26.—Should anyone doubt that feminine extravagance in matters of dress is steadily increasing from year to year, and that it has come close to the high-water mark this season, a tour of the fashionable shops will soon prove to him his error. Never in the history of this country have the shops displayed more beautiful and gorgeous materials and trimmings and never were these materials and trimmings more costly than at the present time.

Velvet, lace and fur are the materials in which many of the handsomest costumes are developed, and these three materials in beautiful quality are easily but it is in evening frocks that are the feminine extravagance of the season most fully illustrated.

For the daytime costumes velvets, plain, striped, ribbed and cut-velvet are all used but the more neutral colors are favored and the marvelous rich color schemes and accessories are reserved for evening wear. In the costume for day use velvet is very likely to be combined with another material, satin, cloth, chiffon, etc., instead of being used alone, and the result of this arrangement is satisfactory since it makes possible a frock less warm than one entirely of velvet, and if one chooses, as to consider practical questions, a frock that will wear better than one entirely of velvet.

For street costumes velvet is used extensively, and frequently in combination with fur. Bands of fur decorate the bottom of skirts, and if the skirt is of the modern slashed variety, the fur bands extend into the slashes, opening. In these slashed skirts or tunics, there is used an undershirt of contrasting material or color, broadcloth, chinilla cloth, ratine and velvet in a different weave are favored for the note of contrast. Little, of course, of this are used on the jackets also.

Usually a smart set of furs to match the trimming is made and sold with the velvet costume.

The promised increase in skirt width shows itself chiefly in evening costume, afternoon frocks and street skirts, though on the whole more rational and less extreme than they have been, but show little change in general outline. A radical novelty which has been exploited in Paris, but which is not likely to find acceptance among the lovers of frock fashions, is the Persian tunic which falls straight and full over the undershirt about to the knees and is so stiffened around the bottom that it gives a slight suggestion of crinoline without any actual stiffness, as may be imagined. This is more odd than graceful or becoming, yet one such tunic model in soft blue chiffon interwoven lightly with silver, bordered with dark fur and lining over a robe of white satin had a piquant charm in connection with a slender figure.

White has more recognition than it has had in recent years. There are many beautiful evening frocks in all white, save for some single dash of color or metal, or more probably jet-linings. The velvet-embossed chiffons, the velvet brocades, the brocade crepes are liked for these handsome white frocks, the bodice being chiefly of lace or other sheer stuff and perhaps embroidered in crystal, silver or gold.

Last season brought out an interesting display of collar and muff sets and of collar, muff and toque sets, developed in fur and velvet, fur and chiffon and fur and silk; but this year the designers have outdone last year's record in that line. Some of the sets are more fantastic and dainty than beautiful, but others are piquant and charming in a quiet way and a few, especially those in which fur largely predominated and velvet chiffon, or lace is used merely as a relief, are exceedingly beautiful.

Moleskin, of course, figures prominently in this field. It is extremely modest this season. It is simple and may be handled almost as velvet or satin can be, and is by no means one of the costly furs. Combined with dull gold or silver moleskin it is charming, and one finds it effectively used with shades of violet and mulberry, with rose and certain tones of red and with a rich, ripe orange. It is perhaps at its best in monochrome effects, with more, by a dash of relieving color.

Chinchilla of the cheaper sort opposum is admirable in combination with the modish purples of the season, and there may be seen in exclusive importers numerous examples of this color scheme.

Ermine is favored more than ever this season and is greatly used for everything in fur, from the superb evening coat to the tiny collar and toque or the handsome scarf and muff. The designers of smart sets have done a great deal with ermine and black velvet, and the combination is not die but practical, since it is universally becoming and can be used with any costume, no matter what the color may be.

Ermine and black ermine are often used together for neckpiece, muff and toque or merely for the two-piece set, and good effects are obtained in this way. One sees, also, beautiful ermine suit sets in which the fur is combined only with handsome lace, and indeed, all of the furs are much used in combination with lace.

Thin, shiny peacocks, of wood-back satin in all colors are made with a narrow accented-plated ruffle that does not interfere with the narrow outer skirt. These are made with two widths, with seams down the side, and they have excellent wearing qualities. The model is repeated in tulle, in pink and in yellow, and in fringe instead of ascension plating as

Toronto, Oct. 27.—In response to inquiries as to the safety of the Presbyterian missionaries stationed at North Hunan, China, which is now in the zone affected by the rebellion, a cable message was received by Rev. Already there is a movement in national political circles to have the main headquarters of the Republican and Democratic national executive committees in Chicago during the presidential campaign of next year. This was the case in 1896 and 1900 and again in 1908.

More Veniremen Will Be Needed Before the Jury Can Be Selected

Panel of 125 Is Exhausted and Jury for Trial of McNamara Brothers Is Not Yet Complete—Defense Objects to Questions Put by the Judge

(Western Associated Press.)

Los Angeles, Oct. 26.—The last venireman of the 125 summoned for jury service in the McNamara murder case, was under examination when court adjourned late today, and the problem of assembling more veniremen became imminent.

Just how to obtain more veniremen was a question discussed by the opposing counsel tonight. While the defense declined to state its position, it was said that objection might be raised to taking veniremen from other branches of the Superior Court.

The alternative seemed to be the summoning of a new venire, which might take days. This course was considered unlikely. The day's work with talismen today, resulted in four challenges and four excuses. The court's action in excusing Veniremen E. J. Muller marked another of the careful distinctions which are coming to be frequent in the trial.

ed after consulting a friend who knew about the results of dynamic explosion.

This way of getting information is not excepted by the statutes as forming grounds for challenge as are newspaper reports and common reports and Coward was released. The defense took an exception to the ruling.

The attorney for the defense called into a discussion with Judge Borwell over the examination of Talismen A. G. Winter, arguing that the judge interrogated Winter so that the talismen would be inclined to think the court wished him to remain on the jury.

The district attorney said it looked just the other way to the state and the court continued his questions after a courteous explanation to counsel that his only desire was to get at the habeas man's state of mind, and that he appreciated his responsibility.

The lad has a broken wrist, two holes through his thighs and a badly bruised chest. Finally it was clubbed into insensibility with an axe and afterwards dead.

BOSTON NOW HAS POISON MYSTERY

Young Woman Dies in Bathroom of Y. W. C. A. Under Mysterious Conditions and Now Minister is Suspected of the Crime—Took Cyanide of Potassium

(Special to The Capital)
Boston, Mass., Oct. 27.—Not for years has Boston been so thoroughly interested and stirred up as it is at present by the mystery surrounding the death, two weeks ago, of Miss Avis Linnell, a young and beautiful music student at the New England Conservatory of Music in this city, who died from poison in the bathroom of the Young Women's Christian association lodging house on Warren street on the evening of Saturday, October 11. At first little attention was paid to the case, as it was believed that the death of the girl was caused by a fatal mistake or that she had committed suicide.

But the sensational features which, at first, seemed to be lacking were soon supplied when the autopsy of the girl's body by the medical examiner disclosed the fact that the girl was in a delicate condition at the time of her death. The report that Miss Linnell had for two years been engaged to the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, formerly of Hyannisport, Mass., but now pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, and that quite recently the engagement of the young pastor to Miss Violet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Grant Edmunds of Brookline, had been formally announced, naturally increased public interest in the case and through the local newspapers have developed many columns a day to the thorough discussion of every detail connected with the mysterious case and to accounts of the new developments from day to day.

From the very beginning, almost there had been hints that possibly the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson knew more about the circumstances surrounding the death of Miss Avis Linnell than he chose to admit. As the investigation progressed a strong suspicion arose that the young pastor had been in some way connected with the death of his former fiancee and few persons who had followed the developments of the case as reported by the newspapers were surprised when, a week ago Friday, Rev. Richeson was arrested in the Edmunds mansion in Brookline upon the charge of murder.

The history of the case, so far as is known at present, presents many features of uncommon interest. The Rev. Clarence Victor Thompson Richeson was born in Rose Hill, Va., about 25 years ago. He comes of a family of devout Baptists, many of whom are entered in church and missionary work in various parts of the world. Young Richeson received a good academic education and, having prepared himself for the ministry at several institutions of learning, was ordained at St. Louis, in September, 1892. After having supplied a mission church at Kansas City for a while, young Richeson entered the William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo. A woman school teacher in Liberty, who took great interest in the bright and ambitious student, lent him the funds which he needed to complete his education at William Jewell College and later at the Newton Theological Seminary, where he completed his studies in the fall of 1899.

About one year before he had been called to the Hyannis Baptist church and he remained in charge of that church until he resigned in April, 1910, to take charge of the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge. When Richeson became pastor of the Hyannis church, Miss Linnell was a student at the Hyannis high school. She had a fine voice and used to sing in Richeson's church. The young and handsome minister became acquainted with the beautiful and charming young school girl and associated a great deal with her. The attentions of the young minister to Miss Linnell, the daughter of a fairly well-to-do carpenter at Hyannis, were so marked that nobody was surprised when the girl displayed a handsome diamond ring upon her engagement finger and admitted to her friends that she was engaged to Richeson.

When Rev. Richeson left Hyannis and became pastor of the Immanuel church in Cambridge, Miss Linnell followed him to Boston. She entered the conservatory as a voice student and lived at the Y. W. C. A. home on Warren street. When she was informed that Rev. Richeson's engagement to Miss Edmunds, the daughter of a wealthy family in Brookline, had been formally announced, Miss Linnell did not become envious in her love. She said, it must be a mistake and continued to meet the fiance minister. She frequently visited him in his lodgings and went out with him. On the evening of October 11, she returned to her lodgings and about an hour later she was found dead in the bathroom. Her death was caused by cyanide of potassium and the police are said to have positive proof that Richeson purchased a quantity of the poison the day before his girl's death.

Theatrical News

"THE EARL OF PAWBUCKET."

"I fancied one night that I would go and see a musical comedy and so I went to see one of the productions of George Gahan. There were soldiers in the first act, as there always are in musical comedies, and my work, these soldiers were young ladies, dressed very thinly. You-ah know, the costumes they wore would not stop bullets," remarked Lawrence D'Orcy. "Then in the first act, a man comes on the stage, which the program said—represented Windsor Castle, it was not, however, what you might justly call a term an adequate picture of Windsor Castle, but the program said it was Windsor Castle, so I was at a disadvantage because of the fact I had seen Windsor Castle, and did not recall the original from the stage setting."

"A man came upon the stage in a dress of a hurry, and awakened one of the guards, to show him to the king. The guard told the man, the king was reviewing his troops and could not be disturbed. But I have a letter of introduction to the king, from the greatest American of them all, the man half-wild insisted—John L. Sullivan. The guard told the visitor, that made a difference, and the curtain went down on the king greeting the visitor."

"After the act, I went to see George Gahan, and found him in the realm of the theatre."

"Whether or not, remarkable ending of the act," I said to Mr. Gahan. "Perhaps you don't like it," said Mr. Gahan. "My special wish was to have the curtain go down with the king and visitor seated at a table drinking beer."

"Thought of course it would not have offended the king, I told Mr. Gahan, perhaps it was just as well to let it be as it is."

"Thanks, old chap," he replied, "I am sure you would know." Mr. D'Orcy is England's most popular comedian, and his work as an actor is formidable. He will be seen for three nights at the Empire Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 2, 3 and 4 next, under a matinee on Saturday. The play is "The Earl of Pawbuck," a comedy of a thousand laughs.

MADAME NORDICA.

Considerable comment was aroused when it was learned that Mme. Nordica, who is Mrs. George W. Young in private life, on her recent trip abroad, had taken away with her one hundred stage costumes, forty hats and five trunks of rare expenditure of money. However, this item for personal adornment cannot be regarded as excessive when it is remembered that Mme. Nordica must do double duty as a great prima donna and as a great social favorite. Often the guest of titled persons and of great wealth, Mme. Nordica is put to the perplexity of never wearing the same gown twice where the same people are assembled.

CHRIST CHURCH C. E. M. S.

The above branch of the C. E. M. S. held their regular fortnightly meeting at the residence of the Rev. H. Jefferson, vicar of Christ church, on October 24 at 8 p.m. It was presided over by the chairman, Mr. Jackson. The minutes were then read by the secretary Mr. Jones, and passed. A report was then given by each member concerning the Church work he had been engaged upon. The C. E. M. S. intend holding a general admission service on December 3, at Christ church. In order to try and increase the membership of this branch of the C. E. M. S. it is intended to hold a special meeting in about a month's time. The Very Reverend Dean Robinson (late of Belfast) has kindly consented to address the meeting on the C. E. M. S. and its objects. For many years he has been connected with the C. E. M. S. in other parts of the world, and is therefore well able to tell us about the great work which other branches are doing elsewhere. Slight refreshments will be served and an enjoyable evening is expected. The exact date of the meeting will be announced later.

Nordica will sing at the Empire Theatre November 1.

COMING TO EMPIRE.

Although Anna Day could continue in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" for several more seasons, Manager Wm. K. Sparks has decided that his young star shall appear in a new play the latter part of this season. Toward this end he has enlisted the services of one of the best known playwrights in the country, but the name of both the new play and the author will not be divulged until the play is produced. Knighthood comes to the Empire Theatre October 29 and 30.

KINEMACOLOR PICTURES.

Moving pictures in natural colors are a novelty in Edmonton, but they are a novelty which should become a regular feature of the entertainment programme of the week. When the beauties of the Kinemacolor are better known in Edmonton, the exhibitions provided in the afternoon and evening at the Thistle rink are sure of the large patronage. For two hours last evening the audience in the theatre rink, was conducted through a veritable wonderland, each exhibiting scene revealing new and unexpected beauties of life, whether in the business thoroughfares of old London, in the fairland of the Italian lakes and mountains, or in the realm of flowers. Color photography has not yet been perfected, but the only apparent defect is the portrayal of certain of the roofs. The exhibition series in all their dazzling splendor can only be properly appreciated when seen through the medium of color films.

One of the most delightful of the numbers of the evening's programme is the film in which the evolution of a number of well known flowers, from bud to blossom, is portrayed in the course of a few minutes, by speed magnification. The photographs were in many instances taken over a period of a week, while the growth and unfolding of the plants was taking place. The Kinemacolor is to be seen each afternoon and evening during the next fortnight at the Thistle rink.

STRAY NEWS NOTES FROM OLD NEW YORK

Society Women Take Up Suffrage Cause as Antidote for Ennui—Gang of Horse Thieves in City—Police Have Queer Ideas

New York, Oct. 27.—The little town of Hackensack, on the New Jersey side of the Hudson, was the scene of an interesting ceremony the other day, when a tablet was presented to the First Reformed church of Hackensack bearing the name of the sixteen pastors who have served it since its organization in 1684. The presentation was the principal feature of the celebration of the two hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the church, until a hundred years ago pastors for this church were sent from Holland and the sermons were preached in the Dutch language and even up to date all pastors of the church have been of Dutch descent. Even the weathercock on the spire was brought from Holland. Upon the occasion of the anniversary celebration silver medals were presented to a number of descendants of former pastors and to the infant son of the present pastor.

Even the most hard-boiled anti-suffragist must admit that Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, the wealthy New York society woman who had taken up the woman's suffrage cause as a mere amusement, but became so deeply interested in her plaything that she has thoroughly identified herself with it, is a woman of great shrewdness and original ideas. It was her money that founded and maintained the Political Equality headquarters on East Forty-first street, where the advocates of woman's suffrage are in the habit of congregating. Being aware that a society woman Mrs. Belmont is quite fashionable in her tastes and extremely fond of grooming, the manner in which many of the suffragettes—by far the greater number of them—neglect their personal appearance was a shock to Mrs. Belmont and, with the energy characteristic of her, she decided to make an effort toward remedying that shocking state of things. She decided to establish at the suffragists' headquarters what might be called a "beauty repair shop." She arranged with a number of women doctors and beauty specialists to deliver lectures at the headquarters several days in the week, lecturing the suffragettes, the first elements of hygiene and suggesting to them how to take proper care of their complexion, hair, teeth, etc. Mrs. Belmont has also decided to lay in a stock of toilet soaps, powders, creams and other beauty remedies, which will be sold at a price slightly above cost to the suffragettes attending the lectures at headquarters. The doctors and beauty specialists will give free treatment to the suffragettes and it is expected that the "beauty parlor" will attract many hundreds of girls to the Political Equality headquarters.

There seems to be a well organized gang of horse-thieves operating in the city and, notwithstanding a few sporadic arrests by the police, the thieves are doing a hand office business. Scores of delivery wagons owned by retail grocers are stolen every week and it is suspected that they are smuggled across the river and, after the wagons have been repaired, sold to peddlers in New Jersey. One grocery had eight of his delivery wagons stolen within the last six months. The police authorities do not seem to worry over the matter and the retail grocers have decided to take the matter into their own hands and to form a vigilance committee.

The burglars in New York evidently find this city a safe and extremely profitable field for their activity. Every day burglars are reported and only in extremely rare cases the thieves are arrested. The fact is that citizens have become afraid of interfering with burglars, as they do not wish to take the risk of being sent to jail for having a revolver in their possession.

The attitude of the police authorities in regard to burglaries is rather peculiar and is neatly illustrated by a humorous incident that occurred a few days ago. One night a man living in an apartment house near Central Park was awakened by a noise in his flat. Upon investigation he found a burglar, hastily departing through an open window. The owner of the apartment, who contrary to law was the possessor of a revolver, fired a shot at the fleeing burglar, but, of course, missed. Then he went to the telephone and called up the nearest police station. After he had reported the facts in the case he was asked whether he had a permit for his revolver and, upon having answered in the affirmative, he was asked to call up again in case the burglar should return.

One Italian, one of those a woman, were arrested the other day at Woodhaven, L. I., upon the rather startling charge of having stolen a three-story house owned by a Polish priest living in Brooklyn. The Italians had almost completely demolished the house and carried away the lumber when the owner of the house had them arrested. The house was undamaged and had been boarded up to prevent boys breaking the windows. The thieves were held on a charge of grand larceny.

During the progress of the world's championship series the whole town seemed to be baseball-crazy. Many thousands of persons abandoned their work and crowded around the bulletin boards of the various newspapers to learn about the progress of the game which they were made to attend owing to lack of time or money, or both. One of the judges in the higher courts, while trying a case, was so anxious to get information about the progress of the game that his clerk arranged for a messenger boy to go back and forth between the court room and the nearest bulletin board to keep "the home" posted.

Another historic landmark, near Times Square, is about to be removed to make way for a new theatre. The old Baptist church, on the south side of Forty-second street, a few doors west of seventh avenue, was sold the other day for about $500,000 to a theatrical concern and will be torn down to become the site of a new theatre to be erected on the church plot will make the north on the block between Seventh and Eighth avenues, not counting one or two moving picture houses. The church was erected in 1841 and was one of the first Baptist churches built north of Thirty-fourth street, which at that time marked the northern limit of the business section of Manhattan.

TART TO KEEP BUSY IN THE WINDY CITY

(Union Press Service)
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—From the moment when President Taft arrives in Chicago tonight until his departure from the city next Monday afternoon, every minute is to be turned to account. His public appearances and his public addresses will be more numerous than in any other city visited on his present transcontinental trip. Among the important ceremonies, conventions and social functions in which he will participate will be meetings of the American Mining Congress and the Chicago bar association, the dedication of the new naval training station at North Chicago, the annual dinner of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and the laying of the corner stone of the new Hamilton Club building. In addition to delivering speeches more or less brief at each of these functions the president is scheduled for addresses at the Chicago Sunday Evening club and at the luncheon to be given in his honor by the Hamilton club.

MEETING OF NORWEGIAN BAPTISTS

Howard, S. D., Oct. 27.—Leaders of the Norwegian Baptist church from all parts of the country gathered today in the town of Bertou, this county, for their annual national conference. AMERICANS START MID-SEASON GAMES

YALE GETS AN EASY ONE, BUT HARVARD HAS HARD AUT IN BROWN

(Western Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 27.—The mid-season football games are now at hand. Practically all of the leading teams have finished their so-called pre-season contests and will have harder propositions to encounter with each game to come. Tomorrow promises much of interest, not only in the East, but in the West and South as well.

Yale is the only big team that will have a comparatively easy time, meeting Colgate at New Haven. Harvard will have a formidable opponent in Brown and Princeton will have to play some against Holy Cross. Pennsylvania will meet Penn State and Cornell will have the University of Pittsburgh for an opponent.

Some pretty evenly balanced teams will line up tomorrow in the middle West. Missouri will journey to Lincoln for a game with the strong Nebraska team and prominent Indiana will play their annual game at Minneapolis. Wisconsin will have Northwestern for an opponent and Michigan will take on Washington university. An intercollegiate contest will be furnished by the Michigan-Vanderbilt game at Ann Arbor.

Among the Southern colleges some interesting contests are in prospect. One of the most promising is that of Georgia Tech and Alabama at Atlanta. The University of Georgia is to play Mercer at Athens and the University of Tennessee is slated to meet the North Carolina A. & M. at Raleigh. The big game in Texas will be that of the University of Texas and the University of Arkansas at Austin.

SWEDES TRAIN FOR 1912 OLYMPIC GAMES

Swedish Athletes Are Now in Winter Training, Determined to Distinguish Themselves at the Big Games to Be Held Next Year

Stockholm, Oct. 27.—Athletic Swedes are training with determination to distinguish themselves in the Olympic games which are to be held in this city next year. The plan for winter training in general sports is already laid down, and will be undertaken under the expert American-Swedish trainer Hjerberg, who is about to visit the different sports centers in the provinces, beginning with Gothenburg and Helsingborg, as an indication of Hjerberg's thorough methods, it may be mentioned that he proposes to visit the city of Västerås, in the island of Gotland, for the purpose of perfecting a young athlete who promises remarkably well as a high jumper, and other places far apart will attract him if even a single athlete with the stuff in him can be found.

Judging from the athletic competitions just close. At Jönköping, which are looked upon as a good test of athletic material, Scandinavia will put some splendid competitors into the Olympic stadium. Finland is likely to prove the worst rival in spear-throwing, but two Swedes, Lennart and Sime, promise to do well as 100 metres, while the prospect is in hammer and discus throwing are favorable. Swedes are believed to be out-classed in all distance running. They are at their best in distances over 1500 metres, in which class Lindström seems to be a likely man. S. Jacobson has a good chance in the Marathon race if he keeps in form. There are at least four or five men who expect to manage 1500 metres in 40, and in the 1000 metres the long several are in the vicinity of seven minutes. Americans are the only rivals the Swedes fear in the pole-jumping class.

The Swedish Sports union contemplates realizing Hjerberg's desire of gathering together all Swedish sportsmen in Stockholm next spring, so as to save them all a final training.

The greatest activity prevails in every branch of the Olympic competitions. The first tests of the volunteer rifle shots are over, and the results are good. Every man has to fire three shots, and the best marksmen so far are O. Christenson (Helsingborg) and veteran G. A. Sjöberg (Kopparberg). The two hundred best shots from the first test, drawn from all parts of Sweden, will compete in the second test, and the hundred best of this bunch will have to pass final selection tests next May. Sweden is very hopeful of doing well in the shooting with slurry arms. It is reckoned that the representatives at the Olympic games will have to fire about one thousand shots to establish their qualifications.

THE CAPITAL'S DEF.

The Capital, believing that it has the best aggregation of boxers in this section of the province, and having been unable to find anyone with sufficient nerve of skill to meet them in the excited arena, have decided to change to the Journal, or the Bulletin, or a combination from both of the latter, and send a series of games at the Olympic alley on Monday evening.

(Western Associated Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 27.—John Hamberg, Henri Eskamp, and Peter Kilgus, have arranged to start from Detroit city hall tomorrow morning on a bicycle trip around the world. The three young men will wheel to Japan, pedal through Japan and China, Siberia and Europe, and will return to New York from Liverpool after touring half the globe.

ROOSEVELT'S BIRTHDAY

New York, Oct. 27.—President Roosevelt was fifty-three years old today. He was the recipient of many congratulations, but passed the day very much according to the routine which marks his every-day life.

Word comes from Calgary that Masters will probably be seen on the outside wing, marking O'Donahue, improve the back field with the help of Pumphly, McLean, Egan, Lamarche or George, and Sullivan. If this back field is the protection that it should be, there will be more ground gained than by any other back field that the Rough Riders have put in the field before.

The management assumes that space will be reserved at the park for carriages and automobiles and the fellow who has not got either will get a good seat for his money anyway.

For those desirous of going to Calgary to support the Y.M.C.A. men, the railroad having agreed to run Y special trains, the rate for the round trip is $1.35 and is a good going on Saturday midnight and returning Monday night or Tuesday morning.

The Y.M.C.A. men are training carefully and leaving nothing to chance as they figure that the Eskimos will be a more serious opponent than they can beat the Tigers there should be no fly in the ointment of repeating Edmonton football circles on Monday night.

The line-up has not been definitely settled, but the men worked out last night at the gymnasium and will have a final workout on Saturday before leaving for Calgary.

With his usual perspicacity, man early perceived that the flowing dresses were thoroughly unsuited to the exigencies of motion; so he persuaded women to swap clothes with him again. She has been in underling over safety, corded, dandied, haberdash, handkerchieved and deprived of domestic and economic freedom.

A Chinese wall of convention was erected around the status of woman, and you could see the luckless member of the female "sex" who attempted to hurdle it.

These gymnastic efforts, together with the public platform work of Lucy Stone, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and a host of other radicals, were the cause of the most drastic costume and vituperative criticism.

The prejudice which exists against granting search all suffrage is due, in part, to the tender, shrinking modesty of man, which was so shocked forty years ago at the sight of Dr. Mary Walker's pants that he has never completely recovered. In fact, the tendency has been to transmit this ingrained impression as automatically as those monkeys who escaped leprosy in the horror of the snake to their descendants, so that now, in this twentieth century, the efforts to progress suffrage are smothered by the corpulent corpses of the smugly sufficient who inherited their hatred and ignorance, and never got over it.

Feminism inspired by the Ballot. And, their reasons are as three grains of wheat in a bushel of chaff. You may search all day, and when you have found them they will not have been worth the search.

Women have demonstrated in Finland, Australia, New Zealand, several European countries and four Western States (where the men have shown sufficient progressivism and intelligence to permit them to vote) that their femininity is not in the slightest degree impaired. They do not develop a coarse beard and a gruff voice, and take to chewing tobacco and swearing (at least, not in public.)

On the contrary, they have had a refining influence upon the old livery-stable form of vardictor halloing, and by the unconscious sweetness of their presence commanded and received the respect of their male confederates in the voting booth. Away down deep in the hearts of men there is a latent racial interference which recognizes the necessity of protecting the potential mother of the race, and so very rarely hear that a woman has been dragged by the hair from a polling booth, slugged with a blackjack, and left for dead in an adjoining alley.

It is most unusual also to hear that the cohorts of the local Dink Dink and Bullhounn John resort to the old-time strong-arm and gawking measures, and exhibit their own dispositions by chubbing, biting and kicking ladies bent upon casting their ballots. It is really much safer for them to vote according to the mortality statistics; than it is to attend a bargain sale or a church fair.

Stand Aside, "Mr. Ant!" The franchise in the hands of women will not solve all the problems of mal-distribution of wealth, venality in office, economic injustice, and poverty.

WOMEN VOTERS CAN'T DO WORSE THAN MEN HAVE DONE

Suffrage Movement Hurt at Its Start, Says Dr. Bowers, by the Unconventionality of Early Exponents

By Dr. Edwin F. Bowers.

In discussing this question back in the days of Dr. Mary Walker, Artemus Ward exclaimed, "O woman, woman! You are an angel when you behave yourself, but when you take off your proper apparel and (metaphorically speaking) take on your 'feminine' airs, you desert your freedom, and, with your heads full of woman's rights notions, go around like 'feminine' brutes, seeking whom you may devour somebody—in short, when you undertake to play the man—you play the devil, and air an emphatic assurance."

In its inception "woman's rights" (which includes suffrage) suffered greatly by reason of the outre or unusual character of some of its most strenuous advocates.

Escaping with a loud and piercing shriek from the thrall of the monster—man—she took to the high places of the "feminine" lands, and, in no uncertain terms, berated and belittled her erstwhile lord and master.

Nothing pierces the thick armor of age-old convention and ultra-conservation like the keen shaft of satire and ridicule. But, on the other hand, when this "returns to plague the inventor," it "commends the ingredients of the poisoned chalice to our own lips."

Conventionality is a power for good or ill. A sort of safety-brake lest we gather too much momentum and "come a cropper."

Early Exponents of the Cause. And the early Woman Suffragists were, to say the least, unconventional. Their Declaration of Independence was so scolding and overbearing that "has the skirt!" became the Amazonian slogan and rallying cry of many of them.

To repossess themselves of the trousers which man had filched from them in historic times (the better to perpetuate their subjection) became a mania with them.

For he it known that women originally wore the bifurcated garment while men enveloped his nobility in a toga or burnese draped covering.

With his usual perspicacity, man early perceived that the flowing dresses were thoroughly unsuited to the exigencies of motion; so he persuaded women to swap clothes with him again. She has been in underling over safety, corded, dandied, haberdash, handkerchieved and deprived of domestic and economic freedom.

A Chinese wall of convention was erected around the status of woman, and you could see the luckless member of the female "sex" who attempted to hurdle it.

erty that perplex and sadden humanity, but it will go far to eradicate a half of our population from a thrush and injustice made possible because women have hitherto had no means of expressing their wishes with suffrage emphasis.

There will still remain profound, heart-stirring problems to be solved, but we'll make much more rapid progress when we have the brains and decency to avail ourselves of the higher moral tone, keener intuition and unimpeachable integrity of our mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts.

So, Mr. Anti-Suffragist, stand aside, and give the women a chance to help themselves, the little children and, incidentally, the opponents of "Woman's Rights."

Heaven knows they can't possibly do much worse than we have done, or make a more unmitigated mess of things economic and political.
